Our Law School has come a very long way since the first intrepid band of students and faculty began to learn from each other in the quarry 40 years ago. We acquired a much-revered and beloved name when we became the William S. Richardson School of Law, and the spirit of CJ and his allies, led by Governor John Burns and Wally Fujiyama, still permeates their dynamic creation.

We remain committed to opportunity for all qualified students, now including those who can attend law school only at night. We continue to provide excellent training for leaders, lawyers, and public servants in a myriad of different ways. Our exceptionally diverse faculty and student body share their expertise from around the world and they are making waves as lawyers and leaders not only in Hawai‘i but also nationally and internationally. In addition, our Law School now enrolls foreign-trained lawyers and others attracted by the fact that we have much more of a global focus than do other law schools. Through our clinics, our pro bono requirements, and the rest of our curriculum, we teach first-rate lawyers to help people, businesses, government entities, and non-profits to solve problems justly and in ways that have lasting values.

The Bible may give a somewhat negative spin when it recounts the number 40: Noah’s flood lasted 40 days and 40 nights, the children of Israel wandered in the desert for 40 years, and so forth. But our 40 years have been full of accomplishment and growth; in addition, we now have a very loyal band of alumni who support us and of whom we are rightfully very proud. We will not rest on past laurels, however. We can and will do much more.

With your help and the help of our friends throughout the many communities in which we live and work and have fun, we will move forward in the ongoing search for justice. And we can be sure that our students—present and future—will continue to lead and to serve in ways that honor the memory and that advance the spirit of CJ as they go on to be exceptionally well-trained, ethical, and mutually supportive Richardson lawyers and leaders. Mahalo nui loa.

C. J William S. Richardson  Governor John A. Burns  Wallace S. Fujiyama
Timeline

1966
- Chief Justice William S. Richardson spearheads drive to start the only law school in Hawai‘i with the simple desire to see Hawaii and its people accepted and able to prosper through self determination in a national and global setting. The existence of a law school would serve as the embodiment of Hawai‘i’s uniqueness and confirmation of Hawai‘i’s value as a vibrant member of the Union.

1973
- University of Hawai‘i Law School welcomes its first class in un-air-conditioned wooden buildings in the Quarry with 53 students and 8 full-time faculty.

1974
- Pre-Admission Program created to support students from historically underserved communities with great promise as lawyers and community leaders. Renamed in 2006, it is now known as the Ulu Lehua Scholars Program.

1976
- First law school class graduates and includes future Governor John Waihe‘e, III.

1978
- First Ete Bowl. Initially a flag football game between the 2nd and 3rd year women law students, this annual tradition now pits current women law students (Etes) against women alumnae (Bruzers). Members have included Hawai‘i Supreme Court Justice Sabrina McKenna ’82, Professor Mari Matsuda ’80, and Alumni Association President Jill Nunokawa ’88.

1979
- University of Hawai‘i Law Review established. This student-run journal publishes scholarly works authored by judges, scholars, and practitioners to serve the local legal community and contribute to national legal discourse. The academic journal has published thirty-five volumes, with Volume 36 currently in progress. Former editors-in-chief include Hawai‘i Supreme Court Justice Sabrina McKenna ’82 and current Dean of Villanova University School of Law John Y. Gotanda ’79.

1982
- American Bar Association (ABA) grants the University of Hawai‘i Law School full accreditation.
- Law School sends first student team to National Moot Court Competition and begins tradition of strong student participation in a variety of national and international moot court, trial practice and client counseling competitions to develop oral and written skills. Over the years, teams have brought home regional, national and international awards.

1983
- Law School and the Law Library move to new permanent buildings on Dole Street.
- University of Hawai‘i School of Law is renamed to the University of Hawai‘i William S. Richardson School of Law in honor of Chief Justice William S. Richardson.
- Pacific and Asian Legal Studies (PALS) program is approved, offering students a broad selection of courses on Pacific-Asian legal issues. The Law School continues to offer more courses on Asian law than almost any other law school, and is the only American law school to teach Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islands law. A PALS certificate was established in 1995 for students concentrating in Asian-Pacific interests.

1985
- Student Bar Association is formed; former SBA presidents include Rep. Della Au Bellati ’03.
Timeline

1987
- Jurists-in-Residence program is established with U.S. Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens and Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Myron H. Bright. Supreme Court Associate Justice Byron White, Associate Justice Anthony M. Kennedy, Associate Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Associate Justice Antonin Scalia, Associate Justice Stephen G. Breyer, Associate Justice Samuel A. Alito, Jr., and Associate Justice Sonia Sotomayor have participated in this highly successful biannual program.

1988
- Environmental Law Program is established to recognize the special challenges of the State of Hawai‘i in developing an environmentally sustainable economy in a unique island environment. Beginning in 1992, students could earn a certificate in environmental law. In 2006 the Environmental Law Program received the ABA Award for Distinguished Achievement in Environmental Law & Policy. To date, the program has 182 graduates.

1991
- Through the efforts of the Law School, Legal Aid Society of Hawai‘i and the City & County of Honolulu Elderly Affairs Division, the University of Hawai‘i Elder Law Program (UHELP) is established. Its goal is to enhance, protect, and preserve the autonomy and independence of older persons through education, training, and direct legal services.

1992
- At the initiative of students, the Pro Bono Graduation Requirement is adopted, requiring all students to provide at least 60 hours of pro bono legal services. Through the Program, students have assisted in a variety of non-profit organizations, the judiciary and state and federal agencies. Students have also provided services in several foreign countries including China, Thailand, Cambodia, Japan, and Scotland.

1993
- Jessup International Moot Court Team wins first prize in the United States and second in the world. In 2006, the team is again recognized out of 90 national and international teams.

1995
- Dr. Lawrence C. Foster ’81 becomes the first alumnus appointed Dean.

1996
- Inaugural Hawai‘i Summer Session is co-sponsored by the Law School and the University of Mississippi School of Law. In 2006 the program becomes the Hawai‘i Summer Law Program, run entirely by the law school. Students from many different law schools come to Hawai‘i to attend the six-week program taught by faculty from across the country.

1998
- Law School celebrates its 25th Anniversary with over 1800 alumni, 18 full-time faculty members, and 300 students.
- Professor Randy Roth installed as President of the Hawai‘i State Bar Association for its centennial year 1999.
- Professor Judy Weightman receives the ABA Henry J. Ramsey, Jr. Diversity Award. The ABA renames its public interest award as the Judy M. Weightman Memorial Public Interest Award to recognize her outstanding contributions to underrepresented groups or public interest causes.

1999
- Native American Moot Court teams finish 1st and 3rd in the national competition.
Timeline

• Asian-Pacific Law & Policy Journal (APLPJ) is founded to increase awareness of legal issues impacting the Asia and the Pacific Rim region and to provide a forum to discuss legal topics that fall within the Journal’s geographic scope. The first web based journal in the country, it has published 15 Volumes.

2000

• Professor Randy Roth is named one of “100 Who Made a Difference in Hawai‘i During the Twentieth Century” and in 2005 is listed as one of “100 Who Made Lasting Contributions During the City and County of Honolulu’s First 100 Years.” His book "The Broken Trust: Greed, Mismanagement, and Political Manipulation at American's Largest Charitable Trust" wins the Samuel M. Kamakau Award for the Hawai‘i Book of the Year in 2007.

2001

• Alumni Gary Galiher ’77 and Diane Ono ’91 make a ten-year pledge to support an annual Galiher Ono Distinguished Public Lecture Series to motivate, educate, and inspire the people of Hawai‘i on how to improve the social, economic, cultural, and political well-being of our state and to enhance the reputation of the School of Law and the University of Hawai‘i.

2003

• The First Annual Patsy Mink Legislative Fellowship and program is conceived and organized by law students. Each year, a student is selected for a summer internship in Washington D.C. with a member of the Hawai‘i congressional delegation.

• C.J. William S. Richardson is awarded the 2003 Founders Lifetime Achievement Award by the UH Alumni Association as a legendary jurist and champion of public interest.

• International Environmental Moot Court Team finishes first in US, second in the world.

• Master of Laws (LL.M.) Program for International Students is established to offer foreign students an opportunity to gain broader understanding of US and international legal issues. Students can specialize in Business and Commercial Law, Conflict Resolution, Criminal Law, Environmental Law, International Human Rights Law, International and Comparative Law, or Ocean Law and Policy.

• Law School celebrates its 30th Anniversary with 2000 alumni, 20 full-time faculty, and over 300 students.

• Doug Crosier ’78 is first alumnus elected to serve as President of the Hawaii State Bar Association.

2004

• Professor Mari Matsuda ’80 is honored by Hawai‘i Women Lawyers as Outstanding Woman Lawyer of the Year.

• The United States Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals holds oral arguments at the Law School. Other courts also sit at the Law School at least once a year, including the Hawai‘i Supreme Court and Intermediate Court of Appeals.

2005

• Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law is established with support from the late Senator Daniel Inouye. In 2008 the program was renamed the Ka Huli Ao Center for Excellence in Native Hawaiian Law. In 2009 the Certificate for Native Hawaiian Law was approved. Current projects include the creation of an online archive of early Hawaiian legal and historical materials for use by law students, lawyers, scholars, and the community.

• January Term (J-Term) Program is established, inviting leading legal scholars, professors, and judges to teach specialized mini-courses. To date, 49 visiting scholars have participated in this program, teaching a variety of courses.

• Family Court Projects: Law School enters into a partnership with the Department of Human Services (DHS) and the First Circuit Family Court to seek at ways to improve services to children and families in the child welfare system.
Timeline

- Hawai‘i Innocence Project is established to provide free representation to incarcerated persons who have a credible claim of actual innocence. The project is partially staffed by volunteer attorneys and law students.
- C.J. William S. Richardson is honored as one of the 100 noteworthy citizens of Honolulu as part of the city’s centennial anniversary.

2006
- Professor David Callies receives the ABA State and Local Government Law Section’s Lifetime Achievement Award.
- Professor Eric Yamamoto receives Society of American Law Teachers' nation-wide award as Outstanding Law Teacher for 2006. In 2012 the Consortium of Asian Pacific American Law Professors established the annual “Professor Eric Yamamoto Emerging Scholar Award”.
- C.J. William S. Richardson is awarded the 2007 Spirit of Excellence Awarded by the ABA Commission on Racial and Ethnic Diversity in the Profession.
- Law student Mike Dahilig 3L is appointed the student regent to the University of Hawaii Board of Regents. He is the third appointed law student following former student regents Trent Kikuda ’05 and Sat Khalsa ’01.

2008
- The Law School celebrates its 35th Anniversary with almost 2500 living alumni.
- Part-Time Juris Doctor Program is launched with twenty-four students. Tailored to meet the needs of students who have professional, financial, or family obligations, the program provides opportunities to those who may not otherwise be able to attend law school full-time.
- Professor Hazel Beh ’91 is selected Outstanding Woman Lawyer of the Year by Hawai‘i Women Lawyers.
- Professor Eric Yamamoto receives the national 2008 American Courage Award. The American Courage Award goes to an individual, company, or organization that has shown extraordinary courage or commitment to the cause of civil rights.
- Professor Jon Van Dyke’s book Who Owns the Crown Lands of Hawai‘i? (UH Press) is chosen as one of the five "2008's Most Memorable Books" and the only local book by The Honolulu Advertiser.

2009
- Chief Justice William S. Richardson celebrates his 90th Birthday with over 900 attending his “Realizing the Dream” dinner. CJ Richardson passed away in 2010.

2012
- 20th Annual National Native American Law Students Associate Moot Court Competition is hosted at the law school. Richardson Law students win seven of nine awards. Fifty-six teams from twenty-eight law schools competed.

2013
- Law School celebrates its 40th anniversary with over 3,000 living alumni, 365 full and part-time students, 38 full-time and library faculty, 14 clinics and certificates in Native Hawaiian Law, Environmental Law, and Pacific-Asian Law. Degrees include JD, LLM and dual degrees: JD-MBA, JD-PhD, and JD-MA.
- The Advanced Juris Doctor degree is established, giving foreign law graduates an opportunity to complete their US law studies and earn a JD in as little as two years.
- Dean Aviam Soifer celebrates his 10th year as dean, the longest serving dean in Law School history.
- Full-time faculty includes several law school graduates: Lawrence Foster ’81, Hazel Beh ’91, Calvin Pang ’85, Melody MacKenzie ’76, Kapua Sproat ’98, Mari Matsuda ’80, and Malia Akutagawa ’97.

V - Visiting Student
Our January Term (J-Term) Program, established in 2005, gives Richardson law students a bonus of specialized mini-courses taught by some of the world’s leading scholars, professors, and judges. Mr. Frank Boas, a generous supporter of the Law School, helped to start the program and annually sponsored a visiting Harvard Law School professor for each J-Term. The Law School will continue Frank’s inspired ideas in his memory. The Wallace S. Fujiyama Distinguished Professor Fund supports many of our other J-Term professors.

STUDENT COMPETITIONS

Our school has a rich tradition of students voluntarily participating in moot court, client counseling and trial practice competitions. Teams travel all over the United States with some competitions holding regional, national and international events. More than one UH team typically participates, often resulting in multiple awards in certain categories. We also hold our own competition every fall, the SUSAN B. McKAY INTRAMURAL ORAL ADVOCACY COMPETITION.

TOMORROW at 2 p.m., at the University of Hawaii practice field in Manoa Valley, two flag football teams will meet for their 20th annual clash. It's an intense pigskin rivalry that dates back to September 1978, when third-year students Diane Ho and Riki Amano (now a Big Island judge) were sitting in the UH Law School library, wondering how to break the monotony of the Paper Chase.

Thus was born the Ete Bowl, a Honolulu sporting event that pits the "Etes," made up of current UH female law students, against the "Bruzers," an intimidating alumnae team made up of established women attorneys and judges.

It's not just a rowdy, fun athletic competition. More important, the game provides an opportunity to promote camaraderie among Law School students and grads, a chance for busy classmates to pause and take time to socialize, and an excuse to network like crazy…

Our Mission

The William S. Richardson School of Law is a collaborative, multicultural community preparing students for excellence in the practice of law and related careers that advance justice and the rule of law.

We develop highly qualified, ethical professionals through excellence in teaching, scholarship, and public service.

We embrace Hawai‘i’s diversity and values and recognize a special responsibility to our state and the Pacific region.

We lead in environmental law, Native Hawaiian law, and Pacific-Asian legal studies.

Law Students' Pledge

In the study of law, I will conscientiously prepare myself;
To advance the interests of those I serve before my own,
To approach my responsibilities and colleagues with integrity, professionalism, and civility,
To guard zealously legal, civil and human rights which are the birthright of all people,
And, above all,
To endeavor always to seek justice.
This I do pledge.
