THE POLITICS OF NORTH KOREA

A PANEL DISCUSSION

Over the past month North Korea has once again emerged in news headlines. Commentators, specialists, and students have been trying to understand the causes behind this recent flurry of challenges and statements emanating from the Democratic People's Republic of Korea. This panel, in addition to considering the history of our ties with the DPRK, will explore possible reasons behind the bold statements and challenges. It will also probe possible long-term scenarios and the need for a new strategy to resolve issues confronting Northeast Asia.

THE PANEL

Center for Korean Studies Auditorium
1881 East-West Road • University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa

April 19, 2013, 4:30 p.m.

Center for Korean Studies events are free and open to the public.
For further information, including information on access for the handicapped, telephone (808) 956-7041.