Andy Winer, Esq.
Director of External Affairs, U.S. National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration

An Insider's View of NOAA: Outreach Strategies, Ocean Policy, and the Obama Administration

Andy Winer was appointed in August 2009 by President Obama as the External Affairs Director at the U.S. National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) in Washington, D.C. At NOAA, Andy works on building and nurturing NOAA’s relationships with its diverse group of constituents, including partners in business, industry and nongovernmental organizations.

Andy is a distinguished Honolulu practitioner. He practiced for 17 years as the managing partner of Winer, Mehuela & Devens, LLP, a law firm specializing in civil litigation. From 2007–2008, Andy served as Hawaii state director for the Obama campaign, and in 2006, he served as Hawaii campaign manager for Sen. Daniel K. Akaka’s successful election campaign.

Born in Annapolis, Md., Andy was raised and educated in Southern California, and attended the U.C. Berkeley Boalt Hall School of Law, before moving to Hawaii.

`Ono pupu will be provided to the first 20 students, staff, and faculty!
