Are you interested in law? A career as a lawyer? Hawaiian rights? Come join NHSS and Pu‘uhonua as we talk story with Malia Akutagawa about her career, current projects, and her journey to where she is today!

Malia Akutagawa is an Assistant Professor of Law with both UH Mānoa’s William S. Richardson School of Law and Hawai‘inuiākea School of Hawaiian Knowledge. Malia is an alumnus of the William S. Richardson School of Law, having earned a Juris Doctor and Environmental Law Certificate. She is President and Founder of Sust‘ainable Molokai, a local, grassroots-led nonprofit organization that weaves Molokai’s rich cultural pathways with responsible, modern sustainability strategies. She is also part of Hui ‘Āina Momona, a consortium of scholars throughout the university community who address compelling issues of indigenous Hawaiian knowledge and practices, including the legal regime and Native Hawaiian rights associated with mālama ‘āina, sustainability, and food security.

Date: Friday, April 12
Time: 1:00pm-2:00pm
Place: Kamakakūokalani 201

*Lunch will be provided

Questions or Comments?
Visit NHSS facebook page at:
https://www.facebook.com/nativehawaiianstudentservices?ref=ts

A Native Hawaiian Student Services Initiative brought to you by: Hūli‘i (In Collaboration with Pu‘uhonua)
Fully funded by the U.S. Department of Education #P031W100012
Native Hawaiian Student Services,
2600 Campus Rd, QLCSS 104
Honolulu, HI 96822