International Energy and Poverty: The Quest for Environmental Justice for the “Other Third” of the World

featuring

Distinguished ELP Scholar Lakshman D. Guruswamy

Thursday, November 20, 2014, 11:30 am – 12:30 pm
Moot Courtroom, William S. Richardson School of Law

Lakshman Guruswamy, the Nicholas Doman Professor of International Environmental Law at the University of Colorado at Boulder, was born in Sri Lanka, and is a recognized expert in International Environmental and Energy Law. Lakshman teaches International Environmental Law, Energy Justice and Oil and International Relations at CU Law. He is also the Director of international energy programs at the Getches Wilkinson Center of the University of Colorado. He is the author of books traversing crucial aspects of international environmental and energy law, and is widely published in international energy and environmental law in legal and scientific journals. He is presently engaged in writing two books: Global Energy Justice (forthcoming Foundation/West, 2014) and International Energy & Poverty: The Emerging Contours (Forthcoming Routledge, 2015)

Lunch will be provided. Please RSVP to elp@hawaii.edu

Hosted by ELP Director David Forman and Research Associates: ‘Olu Campbell, Frannie Demapan, Nica Nordyke, and Derek Brow.