Proudly announcing recent publications of our law faculty

We celebrate their accomplishments at the Law Faculty Book Reception on September 28, 2010 at The Pacific Club, Honolulu, Hawai‘i

The William S. Richardson School of Law at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa—a collaborative, multidisciplinary educational community that is deeply committed to teaching, scholarship, public service, ethical responsibility, and the pursuit of social and economic justice.

For more information and to order books go to www.law.hawaii.edu

An equal opportunity/affirmative action institution
A Global View of Business Insolvency Systems (World Bank & Kluwer/Martinius, 2010)—For legal and international policy-makers, academics, advanced students, judges, and practitioners dealing with domestic and cross-border insolvency, and for anyone seeking to understand or reform insolvency systems. (Co-authors, Jay Westbrook, Christopher Paulus & Harry Rajak)

Charles D. Booth, Professor of Law and founding Director of the Institute of Asian-Pacific Business Law (IAPBL). Teaching areas include: Asian-Pacific Insolvency Law, Second Year Seminar (with a focus on Asian-Pacific Commercial Law Topics), Secured Transactions, Corporate Reorganization, and Equitable Remedies.

Ronald C. Brown, Professor of Law, former Associate Dean and Director of the University’s Center for Chinese Studies. Teaching areas include: Asian Comparative Labor Law, Chinese Law, Employment Discrimination Law, Employment Law, Labor Law, and U.S.-China Comparative Labor Law.

Understand- ing Labor and Employment Law in China (Cambridge University Press, 2009)—A clear overview of the current labor and employment law environment in China, as well as current practices under the laws used to deal with growing labor issues.

Regulating Paradise: Land Use Controls in Hawai‘i, 2nd Ed. (University of Hawai‘i Press, 2010) —Essential reading for all who seek to understand how land use is regulated in Hawai‘i or to apply the lessons learned there to other states.

David L. Callies, Benjamin A. Kudo Professor of Law. Teaching areas include: Land Use, State and Local Government, and Real Property Law.

Problem Solving, Decision Making, and Professional Judgment (Oxford University Press, 2010) —Preparing students and professionals to be creative problem solvers, wise counselors, and effective decision makers. (Co-author, Paul Brest)

Linda Hamilton Krieger, Professor of Law, and Director of the Ulu Lehua Scholars Program. Teaching areas include: Civil Procedure, Employment Discrimination Law, Legal Research and Writing, and Legislation and Statutory Interpretation.

See more at www.law.hawaii.edu  William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, 2515 Dole Street, Honolulu, Hawai‘i  96822