Welcome to our first "Good News Report" for this academic year! The style and form of the Report may change over time, but the objective will always be the same: regularly sharing good news about our law school community. The Report is not intended to substitute for other forms of announcements but instead to provide a snapshot of our activities and achievements.

Disclaimer: Reports are based entirely on the reliability and accuracy of our sources! For law review articles, we will identify the journal which will publish the piece rather than every journal that has accepted it for publication.

FACULTY

John Barkai chaired the Planning Committee for the 1997 AALS Workshop on Clinical Education held in Dallas over the summer.

Hazel Bah has an article on "MUNICIPAL LIABILITY FOR POLICE MISCONDUCT BASED UPON INADEQUATE CITIZEN COMPLAINT PROCEDURES" that will be published in the Fordham Urban Law Journal. She also has another article on "DIFFERING SITE CONDITIONS IN A CONSTRUCTION CONTRACT" to appear in the University of Kansas Law Review.

David Callies was one of four panelists on National Public Radio's Talk of the Nation Program broadcast on Statehood Day. The topic of discussion was Hawai'i.

Karen Gebbia Pinetti was a presenter in an AALS workshop on teaching methods for New Law Teachers over the summer. Karen's article "Statutory Interpretation, Democratic Legitimacy and Legal System Values," has been published in the Seton Hall Journal of Legislation, Vol. 21.

Ginny Hench's review of "Judge Without Jury" has been republished on the American Society of Legal History's webpage at: h-net.msu.edu/reviews/shewrev.cgi?path=27414868966685.

Jan Van Dyke's newest book, "Sharing the Resources of the South China Sea," has just been published.

Eric Yamamoto is part of two consortia that received prestigious grant awards from the Congressional Civil Liberties Education Fund (created by the act that authorized reparations for Japanese Americans interred by the U.S. during WWII). He was also mentioned in an article in the Summer 1997 Harvard Law Bulletin in a report on a conference last April at Harvard on "Collective Violence and Memory: Judgement, Reconciliation, Education."

Judy Weightman recently received the 1997 ABA Law Student Division Diversity Award.

STAFF

Raine Matsuda gave birth to a healthy 6 lb. 7 oz. baby girl on August 23, 1997 named Christelle.
